Blairmore, Alta., Fri., March 12, 1915

It is hoped that the government will see their way clear to put on some relief work in this district.

There are many families who have not the wherewithal to lay the simple necessities of life, and who have been endeavoring to procure labor for months past without avail.

They are willing to engage in any manner, of employment to keep away the wolf from their doors. It has been suggested that the proposed new road over the slide might be commenced at this time to give assistance to the east of Blairmore and Frank on the west who are most in need. Such work would allow money to be well spent, for the present road route has already been condemned as dangerous and a new road will have to be built in the very near future for the protection of the travelling public, as well as for the benefit of the people of the southern part of this province who must make use of this highway between Alberta and British Columbia.

The removal of the bluff at Coleman is appreciated by the public of this district and is money spent for a double purpose, and so the opening of a new route through the Frank slide north of the railway line should meet with general approval.

Frank Happenings

Mrs. W. H. Hilton and son went out to Ferno on Tuesday.

Mr. Barry, representing the General Electric Co., was in town on Wednesday.

Sam Patch was down from Pincher Creek to attend the funeral of Mrs. T. Crawford.

L. McMillan, who is now with the Lethbridge contingent was over for a four-days' visit this week.

The report of the Frank public school is unavoidably crowded out of this issue and will appear next week.

T. Longworth came down from Medicine Hat on Saturday morning to spend a few days, and returned east on Wednesday.

Frank and Coleman Junior teams met on the Frank rink on Monday night. Frank were easy victors on this occasion, winning by 8 to 2.

We are pleased to announce the promotion of F. O. Smart to the rank of staff-sergeant trumpeter, and A. E. Farmer to quartermaster sergeant. Both promotions have been officially confirmed.

The Coleman ladies hockey team met the Blairmore ladies on the Frank ice top play a return game. The game was witnessed by a large crowd. Both teams put up good play and the game ended in Coleman's favor by 4 to 3. The proceeds $39.00 were handed over to the Red Cross Society.

The death of Mrs. Margaret Crawford, wife of Thomas Crawford, occurred at the Blairmore hospital on Monday. The funeral took place at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, at the residence of undertaker Davies, of Coleman, and was largely attended, the remains being interred in the Blairmore cemetery. Mrs. Crawford was the sister of Miss S. Melvill, of the Calahach.

The marriage of Vincent Kotas to Mary Zemek was solemnized at the Methodist church on Monday evening by the Rev. W. T. Young, the ceremony being witnessed by a large congregation. The bride was attended by Misses Bessie Beranek and Frances Madrasa, while Messrs. Anton Dyck and Joseph Jekel supported the groom. At the ceremony the happy party related to the Frank hotel where they were welcomed by the wedding march played by the Blairmore brass band, of which the groom was the talented master. Dancing was organized in the hall until midnight, when supper was served to upwards of one hundred guests. After supper dancing was resumed and kept up until 8 a.m.

I.O.G.T. Notes

The I.O.G.T. will meet hereafter every Friday at 8 p.m., in the I.O.G.F. hall. They meet business in the anti-liquor campaign now on in the province. The local league is preparing a series of meetings in the Town during the coming months until the referendum is held.

If there is any place in the province that needs the elimination of the liquor traffic it is the Crown's Nest. There and we are going to get prohibition—don't you forget it. The addition of another liquor store in our town only emphasizes the need more forcibly of winning out the whole business from the vicinity. It is reported that the so-called temperance crusade are not the only ones that are on account of the extra license being granted. Could you guess who they are? Think of it, 25 hotels and 2 liquor stores in this town dispensing liquor. Isn't it a rotten deal? We believe there should not be any such place in the community and we are in the fight to make so. What does dispensing of liquor do for the uplifting and the bettering of our country?

The temperance forces are preparing for the great battle on July 21st. We are getting into line. A mass meeting was held in the Frank Methodist church, last Friday night. Rev. Mr. Deacon, of the Social Service Department, of the Methodist church, delivered a splendid scientific lecture on intoxicating liquor. It was sympathetic and convincing. Victory, Lord, of the I.O.G.T., of Blairmore.

Organizations will be formed in The Pass town that will bring together the fighting forces for prohibition, and they will assist in the decisive defeat of the liquor party in Alberta, routing them home and foot alike, in spite of their discomfiture by the liquor traffic to stave the tide of the righteous indignation of the people of the province of Alberta.

The regular meeting of the town council was held last night, very little business being transacted.

Red Cross Notes

NOTICE—A box for the benefit of the Red Cross will be held on the afternoon of St. Patrick's Day, from 8 to 8.30 o'clock, in the Thinks Club rooms, over Thompson's store. "Cost nothing to do."

Those who were present at the sewing meeting on Tuesday spent a most enjoyable afternoon together. The amount of work done was a credit to the ladies present, 6 muslin jackets being made, 16 bol-side bags, 6 triangular bandages, 16 T bandages, 24 hospital handkerchiefs and 21 rolled bandages. Thanks are due Mrs. McLeod and Mrs. Hinds for the help of sewing machines and to Mrs. Mackay for bandage rolls. It is much to be regretted that more of the members did not see fit to attend. This work is being done for those who are fighting our battles for us. Let each do their part.

The proceeds of the hockey match on Tuesday evening amounted to $10.00. Thanks is extended to the players and also for the free rink.

$10.00 is being forwarded to Calgary as a contribution towards the salary of the two Alberta nurses, who are leaving for Red Cross hospital work in a few weeks. With this dollar and local funds we will be paid this week, our treasury will be absolutely empty. We would again insist that all our members of the Red Cross Society to help us by joining. We can not carry on the work without funds.

Sitting of Criminal Court at Macleod

The regular sittings of the Criminal Court, presided over by His Lordship Judge Hyndman, judge of the Supreme Court of Alberta, was held in Macleod commencing the 9th day of March. The following cases were tried:

Rev. vs. Nemo. This case was a charge under the Criminal Code, s. 145, White Slavery. The trial lasted three days. The accused was finally acquitted.

C. H. Macleod, K. C., the well-known criminal lawyer of Macleod, showed his brilliancy in conducting the defence of the closely followed case. The handling of the chief witness for the Crown, a girl in question, was one of the outstanding features of the trial. At times one would take the counsel as having had experience in teaching a bible class in the east, and at other times one would think that he was a man of the world. His familiarity with the tongue, his step and other fancy dances would lead one to think that he must at one time have been a dancing master. W. M. Campbell, K. C., crown prosecutor's aid, when he very closely crossed all points C. H. of the Crown, and endeavored to break down any points having been established by Mr. Macleod in favor of the accused. Mr. Macleod's address to the jury lasted about an hour and was full of sarcasm, wit and humor. His description of the famous detective of the mounted police, Sergeant Bessie Piper, was very notable. It was quite apparent that the learned counsel and the detective sergeant had been in legal battles before, as he likened him into one who was in search of Captain Kidd's treasure, as the detective was always sure of getting the prisoner convicted, but for some reason or other he would not deliver him. The Judge's address to the jury was somewhat in favor of the accused from a legal aspect, but clearly showed the court that if there was any evidence to convict the accused, it should most certainly be convicted as his attitude had been anything but that of a gentleman. He must accept of the reputation of the accused for his actions and after the verdict had been given by the jury, the judge, in discharging the accused, told him that this should be a lesson and that he should lead a different life in future.

The next case in the docket was that of Ward Danyluk, who was charged with having committed a very serious offence on a young girl of eleven years of age, residing in Hillcrest. The Crown was represented by W. M. Campbell, K. C., and the accused was represented by Loring H. Putnam, of Blairmore. The case was acquitted of the more serious offence and convicted of the lesser offence and received two years imprisonment.

The Judge remarked that if the accused, was not such an old man, he would impose the law, but on account of his age would refrain from doing so. He would give him a fine that he would allow, of five years.

The next case was that of Peter Novak, who was charged with a crime committed on a girl between the age of fourteen and sixteen years. The Crown was represented by W. M. Campbell, K. C., and the accused by Loring H. Putnam, of Blairmore. The Crown felt sure of a conviction, the accused was acquitted.

The next case was the King vs. Wadnor, grain stealing case, from the vicinity of Vulcan. The Crown was represented by W. M. Campbell, K. C., and the accused was defended by C. F. Harris, of Calgary. This was the only jury case, and resulted in the accused being acquitted.

Rumor is current that the local brewery will shortly start operations.

The ladies of the Blairmore church intend holding a sale of some very useful articles on the night of March 17th. Come along and bring your purchases.

The church people have decided to place an eye light on the corner between the 41 Market street, so as to assist the church-goers in avoiding the mud in wet weather. They will also lay a plank sidewalk from the "41" street to the corner of Mr. Jordan's house. This is sure to be appreciated by people going Maple Leaf way.

Wanted—The people of Blairmore are invited to the "17th of Ireland" concert in the Methodist church on Wednesday, the 17th of March. There will be song, recitations and music appropriate to the occasion, so come and have a good time. Supper will be served, consisting of Muffins and Weavers. In fact this will be the best St. Patrick's concert in the history of Blairmore.

The postponed patriotic meeting was held in the Eagles' hall on Tuesday evening, a good crowd attending. The reports of the committees were among the principal business on the carpet. Considerable money was raised, and it was what would make the most appropriate gift for our soldier boys, who are now training at Pincher Creek and who may leave at any time for the front. The meeting decided to try and raise sufficient money to purchase a wrist watch for each of the boys. The meeting adjourned to next Wednesday evening.

CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE CURED

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. It is not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says F. H. Beck, of Wabesko, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously tried many of the different medicines but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all druggists.

Passburg Happenings

The stock revolted Passburg last week and left a little girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gamen, and a young preacher at the name to Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson.

The Passburg angling association held a meeting on Tuesday evening, the 9th inst. In order to help to alleviate the distress in the district, the secretary was instructed to write R. E. Campbell, the member for Rocky Mountain, asking him to endeavor to persuade the government to open the fishing season this month, instead of the first of July, as it was last year. The members of the association believe that if the season was opened now, besides being a benefit to the unemployed, it would also help to put a stop to the dynamiting of fish that is going on wholesale in this vicinity just now.

The members of the Passburg local of the U.M.W. of A. took a vote on "Prohibition" last Saturday. We are informed that about fifty members were in the hall at the time the vote was taken, and that only one man out of the fifty was in favor of prohibition. If Saturday's vote is an indication of how the workers intend to vote on the 21st of July, on this great question, then the chances for Alberta being dry next year are very remote, indeed. Of course, as many pointed out to me while discussing the foregoing, this is only one camp, and that there were other voters here besides the mine workers. We admit that, but our friend must realize that the majority of the voters in Alberta are intelligent working men who realize that the proposed prohibition act is an illusion, that it is not total prohibition by any means, that it is intended to close up the bars and to restrict the open sale of liquor in the province only. There is nothing to prevent anyone from shipping it in from adjoining provinces, and instead of having one or two licensed houses selling liquor with the consent and under the supervision of the provincial government in our little towns, we will have a dozen "blind pigs" selling the brand of liquor (quiere) whiskey that these places are famous for. We have prohibitionists here in Passburg who sign petitions to abolish the law, pay their subscription to the fund that is being raised for that purpose. They pose as total abstinence, would not be seen in the bar-room, but who nevertheless get their "Buckley Beer" shipped to the local depot in barrels. Prohibition meant nothing to these individuals. They will still be able to quench their thirst with "foaming beer," while their unfortunate fellows who cannot afford to ally by the barrel will have either to do without their glass or break the law in order to satisfy themselves. Mr. Editor, if we are going to have prohibition let us have total prohibition.

A much-needed and worthy institution was organized here last Thursday called the Matrimonial Bureau, open only to bachelors or widowers, or in other words "has-beens" who must hope for the worst. The first victim fell into the clutches of a committee of the whole on Friday morning, who after a careful survey of the district law there was nothing doing outside of an old widow seventy-two years of age, whose personal property included three hens, a tom cat and a pig, an ugly face and a worn out pair of trousers, and who after a minute who used to work at Coleman was skipped by his board. The president, Capt. Beebe, suggested a compromise to let the cat and throw in the hens, but the candidate for matrimonial honors said: "No, I am doing this," and pulling a wad from his pocket offered to buy up the whole. Further addition, the brewery and the old woman thrown in. The crew of the German submarine U-8, numbering 29 men, will be held by the admiralty under special restriction pending their possible conviction for murder at the conclusion of peace. A meeting of the school trustees was held on Saturday afternoon to discuss finances. A system of retrenchment was given slight consideration, but nothing definite was arrived at. The following is an extract of a letter received this week by a Blairmore citizen from a friend at Ipswich, England, and gives a fair view of the attitude being carried on by certain divisions of the enemy:

"I received one letter from one of my assistant seamen, in which he states that at a place called Soisson, in France, where our boys drove the German hunter, he saw the dead body of a young girl, about 16 years of age crucified to a door naked, done to death by those swine. I showed the letter to a wounded man, home from the front, and asked him if it could be true. He told me it could be multiplied a hundred times and then the full extent of the truth would not be gauged. He himself was in a place and saw an old lady of about eighty years seated in her easy chair with a bullet hole in her forehead and a bayonet thrust through her heart, while a little girl of seven or eight years lay by the side of the chair with her throat cut."

Strange Sight At Sea

When the steamer Fort was making for Teropese, Newfoundland, on her way south last trip, the light keeper at Powell's Head observed the whole to direct Capt. Keen, who in turn answered from the ship with one long hoot. It was densely foggy and the ship was unable to see the light. The Fort's whistle had ceased some thousands of sea ducks, which had been resting on the lobster, took flight and passed over the ship. So numerous were they that it took fifty minutes for them to pass over the hull and fourteen birds were left dead on the decks, having struck the ship. The vessel was in full sight of the number being killed by striking the ship's bellows the captain's bridge. The view of the ducks meant extra work for the cooks, who at the next meal heart served dressed duck to all aboard the ship.
